

Autoloader version 1.0 for Outback-S software version 4.06

Autoloader is a new software tool created to simplify and speed up the process of loading application software.

Feature List

- Easy to use interface, that doesn't allow a user to do "unsafe" actions.
- Auto detection of available comports.
- Integrated firmware image, which eliminates the need to select a file, and guarantees that the user always has the latest loader application.
- Status bar displays the status of the load.
- Estimated remaining time w/ 1s accuracy.

To Load Outback-S application software install Outback-S Autoloader V 1.00 on your computer. Connect serial cable between computer and Outback-S. Choose the correct com port and click "Load". The status bar and estimated remaining time will display during the load. When the load is complete the Outback-S will automatically reboot.
